CATEGORY SOLUTIONS

Understanding store operations allows us to work directly with you to effectively support your business needs and help you with purchasing decisions that will make the most impact on your customers. Through a category management focus, we provide you with a broad portfolio of brands and products to choose from, as well as industry insight and recommendations to help you grow your business.

Flash/Memory/Storage
With today's dependence on digital technology, there is a growing need to be able to reliably and securely send, store, and transport data. These devices are perfect for people who regularly work on two or more different computers—particularly students and faculty.

Hardware
From laptops and tablets to digital pens, these items are sure to be at the top of back-to-school lists. With more schools turning to digital learning curriculum, a means to portably capture, store and access this data is key to students' success.

Headphones
The beauty of headphones is the wide array of styles, colors and functionalities. From the casual, on-the-go student who needs something compact and portable like an ear bud, to the more serious music connoisseurs who prefer full headphones, there is an option for every type of user. Just like students, headphones are not one-size-fits-all and by offering a complete selection of headphones you are sure to meet your customers' needs and increase sales.

Laptop Bags and Cases
If your customers are looking for additional protection and functionality, a laptop bag is the best solution to offer. Laptop bags serve as a shock absorber, and provide a shield to prevent scratches and dents. Aside from the protective benefits, these bags make transporting the laptop easier and often have additional pockets for users to store power cords, an external mouse, and flash drives.

Peripherals and Accessories
With all the different technology out there, it is critical to have a wide range of cables and peripherals to meet the needs of students and their many devices. These products are also great for add-on sales!

Software
Our extensive software category encompasses a complete range of products to meet the needs of every student and faculty member. From audio/video, design, and music, to training, CAD, and virus and security—we have it all!
